

INSURGENTS SAY THEY WILL WIN

Christensen Men Assert That Defeat of Howell is a Certainty.

BENNER X. SMITH A FACTOR

SMOOT ADHERENTS SHOW SIGNS OF PERTURBATION.

The struggle for nominations on the Republican state ticket is being fiercely waged between the factions of the party, and the Republican state convention, which will be held Tuesday, will be the scene of a bitter battle between the federal crowd and the insurgents.

The unexpected strength shown by Parley P. Christensen against Howell for the congressional nomination has seriously endangered the success of the slate framed by the machine. It is now openly proposed that, should Christensen be able to maintain his delegates after the early ballots, Howell should be sacrificed to secure the passing of the remainder of the slate and the Howell votes be thrown to Benner X. Smith. The nomination of Smith would serve a two-fold purpose. Not only would his nomination serve the slate-makers in the convention, but, should he be elected, he would be removed from any dangerous activity against Smoot during the coming legislature. Smith is a hold-over senator and is hostile to the Smoot organization.

The Christensen supporters maintain that they have enough delegates absolutely pledged to defeat Howell, and that Smith does not figure as a menace under any condition.

It is asserted by the Howell supporters that the "American" party managers are aiding Christensen's campaign both financially and morally, realizing that it is impossible for them to elect a congressional man on their own ticket and hoping to benefit by the split in the Republican ranks. This statement the Christensen supporters emphatically deny. The insurgents state that they are prepared to go to any length to beat the machine, and that if it should become evident that Smith could be nominated in opposition to Howell and that Christensen could not, they would unhesitatingly throw their votes to Smith.

The fact that a large number of the Howell delegates are headed by postmasters and other federal officeholders has aroused strenuous opposition to the methods of the machine.

The fight for the nomination for state treasurer will be narrowed down to David Mattson of Ogden and either Major H. P. Myton or J. Parley White of Salt Lake. White and Myton will hold a caucus of the Salt Lake county delegates just prior to the assembling of the convention on Tuesday morning, and the winner in the caucus will oppose Mattson. The Salt Lake Republicans are almost unanimous in their demand that the state funds should remain in a Salt Lake bank, and are working with that object in view.

There is a general feeling that the nomination for attorney general will go to a Weber county candidate, although it is possible that, should there be a split in the northern counties' delegations, H. J. Robinson or A. R. Barnes might be chosen. The candidacy of Willard Hanson is not looked upon seriously by the other candidates for the position, and should his name be presented, it is asserted by several prominent Republicans that his written application to join the "American" party and the "American" club will be placed before the convention. Delegates are beginning to arrive from the outside counties and most of the candidates from other counties are now on the ground and engaged in pushing their claims among the delegates.

MAUGHAN EASY WINNER.

First District Republicans Name Judicial Candidates.

(Special to The Herald.)
Logan, Sept. 12.—The Republicans of the First Judicial District held their convention this afternoon, and renominated Judge W. W. Maughan, B. C. Call of Brigham was named as party candidate for district attorney. The results of the convention were unsatisfactory to both factions. The machine men dislike Maughan and the insurgents don't like Call. The Smoot men had absolute control of the convention, but had no candidate for judge, as J. C. Walters refused to run. They, therefore, permitted the nomination of Maughan, but when it came to the district attorneyship, they showed their power. There were three candidates for the nomination, B. C. Call, Nels Jensen and Charles Foxley, all of Box Elder county. Call is a machine man, while the other two are insurgents and united their forces against him. Jensen and Foxley demanded a caucus of the Box Elder delegates, but the convention would not permit it, and ordered a ballot taken. The vote stood: Call, 37; Jensen, 18; Foxley, 6.

ADAMS BEATS MELVILLE.

Hot Fight for Judicial Nomination in Fifth District.

(Special to The Herald.)
Milford, Utah, Sept. 12.—The fifth judicial district Republican convention, comprising Juab, Millard, Beaver, Iron and Washington counties, with H. M. Penmore of Beaver as chairman, was in session here today. It nominated Henry Adams of Juab county for district judge and Edmund W. Ryan of Cedar City, Iron county, for district attorney. Adams was placed in nomination by T. C. Winn and was nominated on the first ballot, getting the solid vote of Washington and Juab counties, with three votes from Beaver. In all he had thirty votes to twenty-eight for Melville. Ryan, who had thirty votes, gave him a majority and on motion of Thomas Martin of Milford the vote was made unanimous. The vote in detail on the final ballot was: Ryan, 48; Lund, 9; Murdoch, 1.

William F. Knox of Beaver county was selected as chairman of the judicial committee, which is composed of five members who are each the chairman of their respective county committees. They were suggestions that the delegates to the convention at Salt Lake be instructed for William F. Knox for the office of attorney general, but at the request of Chairman Penmore no motion was made to that effect.

J. E. Richards of Parowan, before adjourning, read a resolution which was passed with much applause thanking the citizens of Milford for the hospitality extended to the delegates and commending the citizens for their energy in building such a magnificent city in this land of hidden mineral wealth and latent agricultural resources.

In discussing the nomination of Henry Adams for judge, a delegate from Millard county said: "When Judge Greenwood hears that Adams has been nominated, his expressive features will show a broad smile, and he will say, 'That Republican convention certainly was good to me.'"

The majority of the delegates uncovered too late the folly of boosting for favorite sons. The trade of Juab as to the Washington county delegates for attorney in return for a solid vote for Adams did the business, and then the convention awoke to the fact that it had nominated a dead one. The Millard delegates are now firmly convinced that chickens came home to roost. Four years ago the friends of Greenwood and Melville in Fillmore got together and in return for the Republican vote for Greenwood (Democrat) for judge, the Democrats supported Melville (Republican) for district attorney. This was thrown up to Melville, and the only explanation offered was the unsatisfactory statement that the Republican electors of Fillmore would not stand latched when the Democrats came on the ticket. There was scarcely a delegate who ventured the opinion that Adams has a ghost of a show in the election.

HARMONY ON THE SURFACE.

Christensen and Woods Named in Seventh District.

(Special to The Herald.)

Price, Utah, Sept. 12.—The hatchet has been temporarily buried by the Republicans of the Seventh judicial district. Late in the afternoon the warring factions from Sanpete county got together in caucus and patched up their differences, which began four years ago at the election of the county judges. The caucus was held at the home of D. Livingston for judge on the Republican ticket by Ferdinand Erickson, Democrat. When the caucus met at 8 o'clock this morning it took just an hour to nominate A. H. Christensen of Mantle to the judgeship by a unanimous vote. The caucus then voted two candidates before the convention, F. E. Woods of Castle Gate, present incumbent, and Leander Larsen of Alton, Sanpete county gave Larsen half its vote and Woods the other half, nineteen votes each. With Carlson, Kemery, Sam Juan and Grand, Woods had forty-four to Larsen's nineteen. Woods in the convention took occasion to deny the charge that he had formed any alliance with Judge Erickson.

After the two nominations had been made unanimous, William D. Livingston was invited to the floor, and said: "I suppose the extraordinary privilege given me at this time is purpose to draw out my feelings about the work of your convention. I feel just like the typical dorky that went to the river and fell in. When asked as he was taken from the water, how he came to fall in, he replied, 'Boss, I didn't come to fall in, I came to fish.' If you wish to know what I think of the Candland steam roller, I must confess that it is a very efficient machine. To those who expect me to fight the judicial ticket on account of your present nominee's attitude of four years ago, I am pleased to say you will be disappointed."

DECLARES FOR BASKIN.

Prof. Paul Tells Why Former Justice Should Be Named for Governor.

To The Salt Lake Herald:
In the Democratic convention soon to meet at Logan, the nomination for governor of any of the men thus far publicly mentioned might be a good step toward victory at the polls; but I am convinced that there is still more excellent work, and that is by selecting Robert N. Baskin as the standard bearer.

He is an unswerving Democrat of the Jeffersonian type. The chief maxim of the party, "Equal and exact justice to all men," finds its embodiment in Baskin. He is absolutely impartial, showing special favors to none, but dealing fairly and humanely with every person without regard to wealth, social position or political affiliation.

He is learned in the law and skilled in political battles. There is no blemish on his successful record. As a judge he was devoid of prejudice, but firm as a rock in dealing out justice and equity. As mayor of Salt Lake City for two terms he won the respect and admiration of the masses and of the moderate party men, while he creditably earned the dislike of certain extreme partisans of both factions—he would favor none of them.

He is now of ripened years and mellows disposition, a sage in political wisdom, a veritable Tilden of local circles. No name more inspiring than his to every man who has any regard for the fundamental principle of equality before the law—no man more likely than he to swing the entire Democratic vote to the Bryan electors, and to the state ticket as well.

Here, it seems to me, is a chance for the rehabilitation of the Democrats of Utah. We would nominate Baskin because of what he is a man—and not from any motives of supposed expediency. He represents no church, no society, no faction; but, as a broad humanitarian, would appeal to the thoughtful and honest electors of all parties.

He is independent financially and politically. He seeks no office. He would spurn any special favors. He is in robust health, though getting along in years—about 65, I should think, from his record of service.

I have no doubt but that now is the time to strike a real and telling blow in the interest of the Utah Democracy and that the national ticket and that Baskin is the man to lead the party upwards, not improbably to victory. Truly yours,

J. H. PAUL.

Don't Worry About That Bald Spot

Don't worry about that bald spot, for if the scalp is smooth and shiny the baldness has come to stay. Better direct your apprehension toward the hairs immediately surrounding the spot, for they will be the first to go, unless you kill the dandruff germ and keep it out of the scalp with Newbro's Herpicide.

The time to save your hair is while you have hair to save. Extraordinary results sometimes follow the continued use of Newbro's Herpicide.

Doctor Waterhouse, a well known physician of Iowa, and a member of the firm of Dyer & Waterhouse, advised the Rev. R. N. Toms, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Charter Oak, Iowa, to use NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE; read his letter about it.

Messrs. Dyer & Waterhouse, Drug-Gists, Charter Oak, Iowa.
Gentlemen: The Herpicide you recommended to me for use as a remedy for dandruff and baldness has proved a great success. I have used only one bottle and the result is surprising. The scalp has been thoroughly cleansed from dandruff, the old hair has softened and strengthened; while short, soft, hair has already appeared in the bald spots; and I have been greatly relieved from headaches. I most earnestly recommend all afflicted, as I have been, to try NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE.
